

Vernon J. McDonald

Our beloved husband, father, and brother, Vernon J. McDonald, died Friday, September 8, at home after a long battle with cancer. None of us would have detained you another day Vern, but we will miss you greatly, and the warm memories of your life linger still with us who loved you so much.

Born November 8, 1919 in Daniel Wasatch County, Utah to Joseph C. and Minnie Sonderger. Will McDonald, second of their six children. He grew up on the family farm where he learned the value of hard work and attended Wasatch High School.

He married Louise Heaton on September 24, 1946 in the St. George Temple. This month would have marked their 49th wedding anniversary. Vern was a high priest in the Imperial LDS Ward.

Vern worked for Pacific Intermountain Express for 19 years as a truck driver, and for 14 years as a building engineer for Prudential Federal Savings & Loan. He loved camping with his family, and was an amateur photographer. He also was a dedicated home and auto repairman.

He was preceded in death by his only child, Anne McDonald, who also died of cancer, and a sister, Eugena (Evans) Carter, of Springville. Survivors include his wife, two brothers, Hiram S. (Anne) and Glenn A. (Carol) McDonald, both of Bountiful; and two sisters, Leach (Earl) Houz, Midway; and Barbara (Melvin) Moulton, Heber City.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, 12 noon at the Salt Lake Imperial Ward Chapel, 1560 Al-Kin Ave. (2830 So.). A viewing will be held one hour prior to the funeral. Interment, Wasatch Lawn. Funeral directors, Deseret Mortuary.

The family wishes to thank Community Nursing Services for their helpful services during Vern's last days.
